

FARMING THE NEW LANDSCAPE

Perhaps the only certainty for the agricultural sector is that the next 10 years will bring unprecedented change. Whatever shape that change takes, we are committed to helping you succeed.

We are taking steps to ensure we are at the forefront of understanding the new landscape. With Brexit and the new Agriculture Bill around the corner, we are actively talking to our clients and other professional advisors about how we can best support farmers to do business and manage the environment.

Being resilient, adaptable and able to capitalise on new opportunities will be key to your success. We can support you to find ways of increasing productivity, trading more efficiently and meeting your increasing obligations. We have the experience to help you with what is right for you today, and find innovative solutions for tomorrow.

Talk to us about:

- The formation and running of grower and producer co-operatives
- Partnership agreements
- Agreements between landowners to promote environmental aims, such as flood and habitat management
- Public access and risk management
- Green energy schemes
- Licences for the sharing of data across industry
- Protection of intellectual property in new ideas and innovations
- Advice on doing business internationally
- Planning issues.

www.hclrlaw.com

harrison clark rickerbys
SOLICITORS